Significance of Yagna:

Yagna is the action done for the benefit of mankind. Yagna is a life sustaining force as enunciated by Lord Krishna in Gita. Yagna is worship of God through three faculties: (Manasa, Vacha, Karmana). Manasa by meditating on Lord Shiva, Vacha by chanting the Mantras, Karmana by offering havan samagri in to yagnakunda with devotion and faith.

This Yagna is dedicated to Lord Shiva. The Rudra Yagna is the most sacred and powerful among all the Maha Yagnas. It is a very rare that a Yagna of this significance and magnitude can be witnessed. Equally rare is the opportunity for the people to actually participate in the worship here in US. It is done for well-being of the universe.

The Shree Rudram chant is an ancient Vaidic hymn, and is the oldest example of a listing of various names of Lord Shiva. Through the chanting of Shree Rudram, Lord Shiva's various attributes and aspects are invoked and worshiped. When accompanied with the Vaidic fire ritual, it is called the Rudra Yagna. Day before Yagna on Saturday, May 22nd, 2010 there will be Shiv Bhajans, Sankirtans, and Discourse by Pt. Doobay on Significance of The Rudra Yagna.

The Hindu Temple and Heritage Hall of Toledo and The community of Toledo will be performing Shree Rudra Yagna on May 23rd, 2010 in the premises of the Hindu Temple of Toledo.
